NEW LITERATURE

GERTRUDE DARLOW, L. A. LIBRARIAN, REVIEWS IT FOR TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Considering the fine attractions of the program it was a great pity that the full membership of the Tuesday Afternoon Club failed to come out and enjoy the meeting this week. The address by Miss Gertrude Darlow, of the Los Angeles Public Library, reviewing some of the new books of outstanding merit was a rare treat, and the round-tables which followed and which had been arranged by Mrs. P. S. McNutt, were full of interest.

Miss Darlow declared that the year had been rich in the production of that rare type of literature, the biography, and a good part of the charming talk was an intimate and critical insight into these volumes and the lives they depict. The first of these mentioned was "The Education of Henry Adams," the writer being a grandson of the ex-President. This she considers wonderful in its detachment and judicial coolness. Everything of which he wrote was viewed from the outside and he seemed never to have identified himself with the life around him. When he went to England as his father's secretary he made the most wonderful descriptions of English social and political life. His disdain, she declared, is distributed dispassionately and evenly and it is a mine of anecdote. He ended his life as a professor of history. Not many books survive for long but this one, she is confident, will be one of THE books in American literature "because it has caught and unprisoned in its pages a whole man's life told in a cool, cynical way that makes it as sharp as a photograph and it is not confined to any age." She also spoke very appreciatively of the poems of Joyce Kilmer, which, she said, were permeated with his religion and that he was at his best when writing of his faith.

Another biography mentioned was that of "W. H. Hudson," declared by John Galsworthy to be "the King of us all." She characterized this autobiographer as "very unobtrusive and one who makes no appeal to those who desire something to happen on every page," but said, "he is just as much at home with words as he is with birds and that is much because he is one of the most exquisite of nature writers. You feel that

PROUD OF HIS BOYS

TWO SONS OF A. A. BAYLEY ARE OFFICERS IN THE MEDICAL CORPS

Mr. A. A. Bayley, of 2680 West Ave. 32, who, with his wife, two sons and daughter, lived for several years at 1450 W. 7th St., now 350 W. Elk Ave., was in Glendale greeting old friends yesterday. His two sons are still in France. The elder, Major Alvin J. Bayley, enlisted with the Medical Corps before war was declared and was with the Regulars as a Lieutenant at Fort Douglas when hostilities opened. He went over to France in Gen. Pershing's command and has seen service on four fronts. He had many narrow escapes; was chased by a German aeroplane once and took refuge in a shell hole. He was promoted to Major for faithful service and will probably remain overseas for a year longer. The younger son, Capt. Walter A., enlisted soon after war was declared and has been in France for over a year. He is in the Medical Corps also.

HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

The regular monthly business meeting of the Young Business Men's Bible class of the First M. E. Sunday School, was held Tuesday night at the home of A. E. Ecklebarger, 407 N. Kenwood street.

Prof. Geo. F. Sawyer tendered his resignation as president of the class. On account of his large amount of work as teacher in the High School he did not feel he had the proper time to devote to the class.

H. O. Melone, first vice-president, was elected to fill out the term of Mr. Sawyer. A. E. Ecklebarger was elected first vice-president.

After the business session, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. W. Kille and Mrs. F. P. Linn, the color scheme throughout being suggestive of St. Patrick's Day.

WEATHER FORECAST — Unsettled weather, probably showers tonight and Thursday.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

FRIENDS OF MR. AND MRS. T. F. M'CREA BID THEM GOOD-BYE AT KENT HOME

Friends, in numbers sufficient to comfortably fill it, gathered at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kent at 522 North Central Avenue Tuesday evening, to say good-bye and give a hearty Godspeed to Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCrea, who leave early Thursday morning for San Francisco, where they will embark for their mission field in Chefoo, China. While the evening was primarily a social one, there was a brief program which included a piano solo by Hope Ireland, readings by Nellie Rowe, recitations by little Evelyn Kent (but 5 years old) which delighted everybody, and beautiful violin numbers by Professor Adolph Lowinsky. Rev. Eugene Haynes, a former pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, made a farewell talk in which he voiced the love and good wishes which will follow the missionaries. Mr. McCrea responded in a fitting manner, expressing the regret with which they part with their many friends here, but explaining that after the twenty years and more they have spent in China it is home to them, and they go gladly to resume their work. Dr. and Mrs. Powell, who were present, united in wishing Mr. and Mrs. McCrea all possible joy and success, and in all respects it was a delightful send-off for the travelers.

AN INTERESTING TEST

The City Manager and Fire Chief have planned a test for Friday forenoon with all three engines. The engines are to be attached to contiguous hydrants, as close together as can be found, on Doran street, near the schoolhouse, all the hose the city owns coupled on to them in equal lengths, then the full force turned on with the confident hope of developing a combined flow of 20 miners' inches per minute. Pictures will be taken from advantageous points and at different periods during the test and the best of these used in the exhaustive report of the Public Service Department's achievements to be issued later in the year.

LINDLEY-McADAMS

DAUGHTER OF ARTHUR G. LINDLEY BRIDE OF LOS ANGELES BUSINESS MAN

Miss Frieda M. Lindley's many friends were very much surprised when she and Mr. Delbert McAdams quietly slipped away Sunday evening and were married in Los Angeles in the presence of parents of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony they left for a short honeymoon trip.

Miss Lindley is the daughter of Arthur G. Lindley, of 342 North Kenwood St., and has lived in Glendale since early childhood, having attended grammar and High Schools of Glendale. She has many friends among the younger set who wish her a long and happy voyage on the matrimonial sea.

Mr. McAdams is a young business man of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. McAdams will be home to their friends after April 1st, at 1157 E. 56th St., Los Angeles.

NEW OFFICERS OF CHAPTER A. H. OF THE P. E. O.

At the meeting of Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O., which was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Lynch, of South Maryland avenue, last Friday, officers were elected as follows for the ensuing year: Mrs. W. C. Wattles, president; Mrs. Abbie Barker, vice-president; Mrs. Henry Goodwin, recording secretary; Mrs. Leigh Bancroft, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Hobbs, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Webster, journalist; Mrs. Emil Tholen, organist, Mrs. Edward Lynch, chaplain; Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, guard.

W. W. CANNADY INJURED

Tuesday morning, about 7:15, W. W. Cannady, of 444 Pioneer Drive, while attempting to board a Burbank car at Arden avenue, fell, and was so seriously hurt that an ambulance was summoned and he was taken to Thornycroft Hospital, accompanied by Officer Tom Maguire, of the City Police Department. Reports from the hospital Tuesday afternoon indicated that he was doing nicely and his general condition was good. His most serious injury was the crushing of the toes on his right foot. No predictions could be made as to how soon he would be able to leave the hospital.

INDICTMENTS FOR GRAFT

TWO RETURNED BY GRAND JURY AGAINST NEGRO POLITICIANS WHO TRIED TO INTIMIDATE A WITNESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Los Angeles, March 12.—The first indictments growing out of the Los Angeles grand jury investigation of alleged municipal graft were returned today. They were against George Brown and Julius McAllister, both negro politicians, who are charged with attempting to intimidate Lulu Wright, a witness before the grand jury.

At the request of the district attorney their bail was set at $25,000 each.

HARD ROW FOR GERMAN GOVERNMENT

DEMAND THAT IT CEASE USING ARTILLERY AND BOMBS IN FIGHTING RADICALS MAKING SITUATION DIFFICULT

Berlin, March 12.—Government troops in desperate fighting have captured most of the suburb of Lichtenberg. Spartacides have fled to the southeastern part of Berlin, where reinforcements have joined them, and they are now entrenched, their artillery threatening the city. A small Spartacan force still holds the Lichtenberg station.

The public demand that the use of artillery and of airplane bombs be stopped by the government is making the government's position increasingly difficult. Fear that a refusal will turn the people to the radicals may result in the demand being granted.

BIG BOND SALES BY WOMEN

NEVADA WOMEN LED IN THE TWELFTH FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT IN FOURTH LOAN

San Francisco, March 12.—Women sold more than one-fourth of the Liberty Bonds which were sold in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District during the fourth loan. Nevada women led, selling 48 per cent of the total bonds sold in that state.

Arizona women were second with 45 per cent, while California women were credited with 27 per cent of the total sold in that state.

AMERICAN MUNITIONS SENT TO CARRANZA

PASS THROUGH THE CUSTOM HOUSE AT EL PASO UNDER GOVERNMENT LICENSE

El Paso, Texas, March 12.—One hundred and fifty thousand rifle cartrides were shipped to Carranza last night through the custom house here. This is the first munitions shipment to the Mexican government in several years which has been made through the local customs office on a government license.

General Castro, Carranza commander in the State of Chihuahua, will leave Juarez for Chihuahua City. Villista forces are reported today one hundred miles south of the border and preparing to attack his train. Castro has a regiment of federal troops with him for protection.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND LAW NOT EFFECTIVE

POULTRY STOCKS IN STORAGE 93 PER CENT HIGHER THAN A YEAR AGO—BUTTER 20 PER CENT HIGHER

Washington, March 12.—If the law of supply and demand was effective, chickens, eggs and butter would be cheap.

According to figures given out today by the Department of Agriculture, frozen poultry stock on March 1 was 93 per cent larger than a year ago, butter stocks 20 per cent higher, and case egg stock 28 per cent larger.

STRIKE OF NEW JERSEY CARMEN

TIES UP NEWARK, PATTERSON, ELIZABETH, JERSEY CITY AND THIRTEEN SMALLER TOWNS

Newark, N. J., March 12.—Carmen struck here today, tying up street railways in Newark, Patterson, Elizabeth, Jersey City and thirteen smaller towns.

CALIFORNIA CASUALS SOON DUE

RECEIVE PARK REPORT

RICHARDSON D. WHITE SUBMITS STATEMENT TO DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

With Norton C. Wells, Chairman, and C. D. Lusby, Secretary, the Greater Glendale Development Association, met in weekly session in the Library rooms of the Intermediate School, Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

The minutes of the previous meeting being in the possession of the Assistant Secretary who was absent, prevented the reading of the official minutes, but that persons who were not in attendance at the preceding meeting might learn concerning the business transacted at that meeting, the Chairman asked the Secretary to read the report of the meeting as published in the Evening News.

A communication was read by the Secretary from H. S. Webb, drygoods merchant, addressed to Postmaster General Burleson at Washington complaining of the discourteous treatment he had received from a Mr. Comfort, foreman of carriers of the Los Angeles postoffice system. Verbal reports from Norton C. Wells and Dr. H. R. Harrower indicated that the delivery of mail in the residence and portions of the business district have been greatly improved in the past few weeks. Chairman Wells was advised to write a letter to Postmaster Brown acknowledging the improvement of service as stated above.

Richardson D. White, Chairman of Committee on Parks and Memorial Building, was called upon for a report. Mr. White reported that at the committee meeting held Monday evening to which had been invited representatives of more than fifty organizations of Glendale it was unanimously voted by those present that a report be made to the Greater Glendale Development Association that said committee favors for a park site the block now occupied by the Glendale Sanitarium and the block directly west except that portion occupied by the Methodist Church and advised that the Greater Glendale Development Association request the City Trustees to call a bond election for an amount sufficient to purchase and improve said property. Mr. White's report was received with great enthusiasm and W. B. Kirk, a member of the committee, announced that Mr. White had presented the subject at the meeting the previous evening in a very clear and forceful manner.

Members present advised that the exact cost of the property be ascertained and also the exact cost of the proposed improvements be secured before presenting the question to the City Trustees.

The motion prevailed that all dele-

TRAGEDY RECALLED

MRS. HUTTON IS RECOVERING FROM AUTO ACCIDENT OF LAST OCTOBER

On Sunday, Oct. 20th, as Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutton, of 326 E. Colorado, were on their way home from an auto trip to Illinois and Indiana points, their machine capsized and rolled 60 feet or more down a rocky hillside near Santa Fe, N. M. Mr. Hutton was instantly killed and his wife very seriously injured. An attack of pneumonia followed, but she at last recovered sufficiently to be brought home, where she lay for weeks, unable to sit up. Her back was so affected that while she could walk around the house and even down stairs, she could not sit up for an instant. Of late she has been able to move about freely and sit for a short time occasionally and even to attend church gatherings. But today, for the first time in nearly six months, she will be able to be up long enough to visit Los Angeles and attend to legal matters pertaining to her husband's estate.

NEWS FROM WILL MARPLE

Dr. Joseph Marple of Palmer Avenue is in receipt of a letter from his brother Will, who was transferred from England to France about a month ago and has been enjoying a ten-day furlough in that country in the course of which he visited Verdun and the front-line trenches of the battlefields, Paris and other interesting points. He is now in Brest with Base Hospital No. 5, having been transferred from No. 2 when the staff of that hospital was sent home. From the fact that he is kept there so long, his relatives argue that he must be useful and valuable. He has no idea when he will get home, but writes the latest orders are that all reserves in France will leave there March 15th. He is Pharmacist Mate in hospital service.

SERGEANT H. E. PARKER FINDS LAND OF POILU CLOSE TO HIS HEART

Ezra Parker, of this city, has received a wonderfully interesting descriptive letter from his son, Sergeant H. E. Parker, Q. M. C., A. P. O. 754. He is having an opportunity to see a good deal of France and is enjoying the experience immensely. His letter is so full of entertaining details that his father has consented to its publication that others may enjoy it with him. It contains some warm commendations of the work of President Wilson for the League of Nations that should interest readers:

Neuwied, Germany,
February 21, 1919.

Dear Folks:

Dad's letter of January 24th chides me very severely for not writing more frequently and I must plead guilty, for I surely have neglected all of my mail, but this is a new year so I will turn over a new sheet.

I have just returned from my vacation, the first since I joined the army, in nearly two years. It was a glorious occasion and it did me a world of good. Of course, I visited Paris and My Mamman, that is the French word for mama. Did I tell you that a generous-hearted old lady adopted me (?) just before the big fight started at Soissons in July? She faithfully, three times each week, sent me a letter all through the trying months that followed after this fight. Chocolate and bon bons were frequently received, in fact, we Americans are all like a spoiled baby, now, after all the coddling and fussing over we have received from America and from French families.

She has a son in the French army the same age that I have and we are all very good pals. She is a profes-

MRS. CLINE LOSES AUNT

Mrs. Ellen F. Brickett, aunt of Mrs. B. L. Cline, of 720 East Windsor Road, this city, died Tuesday morning at her home on North Broadway, Los Angeles. She was one of the pioneers of the city, having lived there for forty years. She was a native of Massachusetts. Cremation will take place Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Forest Lawn Memorial Park and the ashes will be sent to Boston, Mass., for burial. She leaves a sister, Mrs. George Foreman, of Los Angeles, and a sister in Massachusetts.

BACK TO THE OLD LOVE

E. B. Gorrell, who moved to Glendale three or four years ago from Louisville, Ill., where he had been publishing the only Republican paper in Clay county, and bought the Glendale Paint & Paper Store, selling it later to his nephew, F. J. Kuntzner, and moving to Colton, is back in Louisville again at his old job. A group of influential Republicans bought the paper, then sent for Mr. Gorrell and installed him as editor and publisher at a substantial salary. He is very much pleased to be back in the harness again.

INDORSES MEMORIAL

CENTRAL AVE. P.-T. A. ENJOYS "FATHERS' NIGHT" AND VOTES FOR PARK

The Central Avenue P.-T. A. had a most enjoyable party Tuesday evening in celebration of "Fathers' Night." Mrs. E. B. Wyman, president of the association, opened her home for the occasion. A charming musical program contributed by Mrs. Wright, Mrs. John W. Cotton and Francis J. W. Henry was received with great appreciation.

Richardson D. White, Superintendent of Schools, presented many new thoughts for consideration in a most interesting talk on "The Present Crisis in Education."

Later in the evening, after members had enjoyed delicious refreshments, Mr. White started an informal discussion of the proposed city park, civic center and memorial for soldiers and sailors. The project met with the enthusiastic approval of the meeting.

A partial count was taken of the parents present from each room and that of Miss Edwards was found to be best represented. As a reward the children of that room were surprised with a treat of cake at their lunch hour Wednesday.

There will be no meeting of the Central Avenue P.-T. A. Thursday afternoon, the Fathers' Night having taken the place of the regular March gathering.

WHOSE FUNERAL IS IT?

There are a great many splendid things said and done in the States incident to the American soldier's return. And, as might be expected, a great many things equally as silly.

The American soldier believes that this war has been fought for something very spiritual and yet very tangible, and that the peace to follow is to be a worthy one. He will return to face life with the same high courage with which he confronted death. He feels sure of the welcome he will find, and he hopes to slide back quietly and unostentatiously into harness and help pull the load of a bigger, better world.

To programs of land reclamation and vocational training, insurance protection, and help for the maimed and blind, the returning soldier looks forward as a measure of justice which he hopes will be worked out to a consummation in keeping with the new order of things.

There are, however, unfortunately, a great many people in the States with lots of time and nothing to do, to whom it ought to be suggested that he does not appreciate the charity campaign now in full swing. He doesn't object to his old uniform and some of its accessories, nor to the extra month's pay—that is an intimate little matter between himself and his Uncle. But when he picks up the paper and reads in, perhaps, nine out of fifteen items, some novel proposition, rather vague, but nevertheless entirely suggestive of the charitable intentions of the authors, he feels very much like a man who has left home and upon returning finds someone else installed in the best chambers and the word "welcome" on the cellar door.

One State is planting trees for us, another naming pigs for us, all the hens in another State laying eggs for us, and someone else is planning to make New York policemen out of us. Some Governors are calling the politicians together and proclaiming that something has got to be done with us, and committees are being appointed (with salaries) to look into the matter. Some are recommending that all of us be sent back to the farm and others that we be hired by the government.

What a tremendous awakening is in store for all these dear people when the soldier sets foot again upon the old sod, shakes the dust of battle from his clothes, and wades into things with a breeze that will blow all the charity boards and Governors' committees out of his way forever!—The Stars and Stripes (Official publication of the American Epeditionary Forces).

HE IS ON HIS WAY

It is recognized today that the greatest need of the United States Government is for a constructive financier. The nation is facing problems hitherto undreamed of. With a national debt of many billions and government expenses totalling from five to ten billions a year for some time ahead, the problem of providing resources to meet the necessary outlay is one that well may appal. Alexander Hamilton faced a situation of comparative gravity in the first years of the Republic, and his genius was adequate to the task. In 1837, 1865, 1873, 1895 and 1907 crises of similar nature, but not comparable in magnitude, were surmounted. But now a financial giant, indeed, is needed, one not only able to provide a plan and carry it through, but one who must steel himself to stand the bitter criticism and calumny that is bound to be heaped upon him. Shall we find him? Yea, verily. In every crisis in national life a man has been found to fill the gap. We do not know who the man will be to face the present task and do not know how many will be tried and found wanting before the "real man" is found, but he will be found as certainly as the sun shines in the heavens. He is on his way to assume the burden, but who he is no man now knows.

PLANT PEACE GARDENS

Last year at this time the government was urging, through all publicity channels, the planting of war gardens to raise food so we could save wheat and sugar for our Allies. Today we still need to save, as all Europe is to be fed, and the need for heavy production of vegetables is as great as ever. Why not put as much energy into the planting and care of a peace garden? Vacant lots would be much more sightly if planted to vegetables instead of being left to a growth of weeds. It is safe to plant most any kind of vegetables now, as soon all danger of frost will be past. Speed up on the peace garden.

HOTEL AS TOWN ASSET

So great have been tourists' demands upon the pretty "Leven Oaks Hotel" in Monrovia that it has had plans drawn for an addition which will double its capacity. This hotel is one of the greatest assets of the town, as it has entertained many persons desirable as citizens who have become acquainted in that way and ended by becoming permanent residents. The hotel was established through a co-operative effort of Monrovia's business men and they have never regretted the investment, as it has been one of the greatest agencies in the upbuilding of the city. A hotel of like character is badly needed to perform the same office for Glendale.

THEY WANT A SEPARATION

With Ireland clamoring for complete separation from England, and Porto Rico and the Philippines agitating for the severing of the ties that bind them to the United States in order that they may set up distinct governments of their own, and all of these basing their pleas on one of the paragraphs in President Wilson's fourteen points, the peace conference has a problem put up to it that was not thought of when the President's famous measure was given forth to the world.

SINN FEIN FUGITIVE FOUND

DISCOVERED AND INTERVIEWED BY NEW YORK STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF UNITED PRESS

New York, March 12.—(Copyrighted, 1919, by United Press.)—Ralph E. Couch, staff correspondent of the United Press, has found and interviewed Edward de Valera, a fugitive Sinn Fein leader, whom the British government is hunting.

Couch found him near Dublin and got a signed statement from him, which he brought back to the United States by steamer to avoid the censor. Couch's story is as follows:

Dublin, Feb. 24.—(Copyrighted, 1919, by United Press.)—At a secret midnight interview Edward de Valera told me: "Violence will be the only alternative remaining to the Irish patriots if the peace conference at Paris fails to take steps to extend the policy of self-determination to Ireland.

"Until Ireland's rights are recognized," he said, "the Irish revolution in some form will be continued."

De Valera is American born of an Irish mother and a Spanish father. He escaped from jail eleven days ago and is being hunted by the British.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Burrows are rejoicing, for unto them was born a son March 11, 1919. The new comer has been named Herbert Leonard Burrows.

A fine program is pomised for "Fathers' Night" of the Cerritos Avenue P. T. A. It will be celebrated Thursday evening at the K. of P. Hall on Brand Boulevard and Park Avenue.

Samuel Moore is spending the winter with his sister, Mrs. Gregg (mother of Mrs. Harry Hall), at 128 South Maryland Ave. They have been at the shipyards for the week and visiting Mr. Hall, who is employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCrea were dinner guests Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin, 246 North Central. Violets and roses were used in decoration, the affair being quite informal.

Mrs. Charles Parker, of 220 West Chestnut street, has been entertaining Mrs. H. C. Thompson, from Winnipeg, who expects to return to her home in a week or two, after visiting other friends in Southern California.

Monday evening Nishon Parsehian driving an auto, was bumped into by a P. E. car on Broadway, near the Gross Vulcanizing Plant. His rear fender was bent and a wheel sprung, but no other damage of a serious character resulted and no one was hurt.

Ralph Meeker has been the possessor of a farm tractor for about a week and is very much pleased with his purchase which accomplishes in a day or two the work for which a man and team would require a week. It is an object of considerable interest to his friends and neighbors.

W. R. Phelon, connected with the Southern California Gas Company, with his wife and family is moving to Victorville. He took a load of goods there last week and when he returned Saturday was taken very ill as the result of an abscess which developed from a bad tooth. He was somewhat better yesterday.

Juniors of Glendale High will have a hop Friday evening next at Masonic Temple. It is to be a St. Patrick's dance and all the green students will be in clover. It is safe to announce that the music will be good and there will be plenty of beautiful girls in pretty gowns for dancing partners.

Mrs. Isadore Tompkins, of 818 Green Street, who came to Glendale about two years ago and built the pretty home where she has been living, was taken suddenly ill last week and was removed to Thornycroft for an operation Friday. Hospital authorities report that she is now past the danger point and doing nicely. She is a sister of Mrs. John C. Green.

As the result of a drive for membership, 61 names were added to the roster of the Cerritos Avenue P.-T. A. at its last meeting, bringing the total membership to 94, which will probably be swelled to 100 in the near future. The room whose representatives brought in the largest number of members literally "took the cake," and this form of reward for promotion effort has proved so popular that other associations have adopted the idea.

Paul Neer, a mining man from Mexico, and Mrs. Neer, are new comers in Glendale, who have leased a house at 211 East Harvard street. More recently Mr. Neer was engaged in a Tungsten mine near Bishop, from which he was driven out by snow. In getting out it took him three days to cover a distance of 11 miles. The parents of Mrs. Neer, Mr. and Mrs. Higginbotham, of Ohio, are here for the winter. They are friends of Mrs. Young of Kenwood street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Booth were entertained Sunday at a dinner party given by the famous pianist, Mrs. Mabel Himoc Hall, at her residence in Los Angeles. Covers were laid for seven at a sumptuous repast, afterwards adjourning to the Music Studio to be entertained by this famous pianist, who is a sister of Mrs. F. Booth. Selections from some of the most famous masters were rendered in fine style. F. Booth, who reports he has sung in England before the royal family, has seldom heard a better pianist.

The autos came at last, though many weeks have passed, and now E. J. Jackson of the Overland Agency, is happy again. That car of Overlands rolled in on the Salt Lake and he has been busy as a tramp ever since, getting them on the floor ready to be shown—those of them not already sold. It surely has been heartbreaking having eager buyers waiting and no machines ready to deliver to them, for if it is an Overland they want, no substitute goes. The factory is catching up now and it is hoped that soon the supply will equal the demand. Mr. Jackson would be delighted to have you call at the home of the Overland, 246 South Brand.

Mrs. Walter R. Cleveland of San Fernando spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Harold Nutting, of the same city, who is occupying apartments on Wilson Avenue, to be near her husband's mother who is a patient at the Glendale Sanitarium.

Mrs. Higgins, of Van Nuys, and her mother, Mrs. Hobbs, were luncheon guests last Friday of Mrs. Chas. Parker, of 220 West Chestnut street. Mrs. Higgins was formerly of Detroit where she is widely known as a musician. She contributed violin numbers to the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, which was entertained by Mrs. Parker the same afternoon.

MICHIGAN PICNIC PLANS COMPLETED

The officials of the Michigan Association of Southern California are predicting a record-breaking attendance for the great annual picnic that will be held in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, all day, Saturday, March 15th, with the basket dinners at noon.

Hot coffee will be supplied free to all who buy the new badge and there will be a program opening about two o'clock. Samuel Young will preside and voice a welcome to all. Col. Frank H. True and C. H. Parsons, president and secretary of the Federation, will both speak and there will be others. The greatest feature will be the county registers and headquarters where the people will gather to meet friends. Wolverines are expected to rally from every county and town in Southern California and hundreds of tourists will be on hand. Special invitation is given to all the soldiers.

PACIFIC AVENUE P.-T. A.

The Pacific Avenue P.-T. A. will hold an informal social meeting Thursday afternoon, March 13th, at 2:45. Richardson D. White will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Cora Taylor will explain how to teach reading to beginners. Obed Lucas is to sing, accompanied by his sister, Erma Lucas.

All mothers of the city are invited to attend.

ST. PATRICK'S DANCE

The Columbus Club of Glendale will give a dance at the Pearl Keller Studio on Brand Boulevard to celebrate the day that means so much to all those who have a warm, spot in their hearts for the patron saint of Ireland. An efficient committee of ladies is working night and day to perfect arrangements and will furnish a real jazz band to supply music and decorations appropriate to the occasion; so come along and forget dull care for at least one night. The ladies in charge say the dance is informal, but at the same time every precaution will be exercised that nothing may take place that would cast any discredit on the good name of the holy St. Patrick. It is a fathers', mothers' and children's party. A cordial invitation is extended to all good friends of Glendale.

NEWS FROM ENGLAND

F. Booth, the Coffee King, has just received a very interesting letter from his sister in England, also enclosing a photo of her son, Frank, who was killed in action in France, July 31, 1917, who was serving as gunner in the British Army, aged 23, a fine young fellow about six feet five inches tall. She also tells how the British public during the war had to register at one grocery store to make their purchases. That prevented them from running about from store to store and hoarding up food supplies. This would have been a good system for this country, as it would have prevented sugar hoarding, etc. As it was here, a person would run around from store to store and purchase two pounds of sugar here and two pounds there, so that no check could be kept. She also says meat was very dear and butchers charged anything. They could not complain, but were glad to get it at any price.

All my brothers and sisters in England would like to come out here in Southern California from the glowing accounts they read of this wonderful climate.

gates who attended or were invited to the committee meeting of Tuesday evening, March 10th, be made members of the Park and Memorial Building Committee.

It was learned that the price on the Sanitarium property cannot be obtained, until after a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Sanitarium, March 26th, so no further definite steps can be taken as to learning the cost of the grounds until after that date.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower who says he is mailing many thousand copies of circulars to various parts of the United States offered to enclose publicity matters concerning Glendale with these circulars providing such matter is furnished to him in proper size and weight. The offer was accepted and, on motion the Chair appointed W. B. Kirk, Roy L. Kent and A. T. Cowan as a Special Committee to prepare such matter and also to prepare a circular of publicity for other general distribution.

The question of congested traffic conditions on Broadway just east of Brand was taken up and discussed at length. City Manager T. W. Watson stated that he would take the matter up with the Railroad Companies and such changes would be made as would improve traffic conditions.

ATTEND TO FOUR OWN BUSINESS, FIRST

Some people are always trying to do something for someone, they are ready to attend to every one's business before they attend to their own. Consequently they get but little time to attend to their own business. Such people like to be in the lime-light—not probably in a sensational way, but only in an annoying way. Cheap meddlers may be a very appropriate name given to people who are continually attending to the affairs of other people and neglecting their own.

GOOD IN EVIL

While there is just now a great clamor over the exceedingly hard verdicts imposed in some cases by military courts-martial, and while this clamor is undoubtedly justified in some instances, yet there is one fact that cannot be disputed. Wealth and poverty stand on equal terms before a court-martial, and no unscrupulous lawyer can "fool the jury" and thus win freedom for a guilty client.

these two things must have been the preoccupations of his life. He pays a fine tribute to his mother whose influence made him what he is, and his descriptions of life on the plains of Argentina where his boyhood was spent are wonderful glimpses of the real thing, in a land of which we know very little.

Still another biography touched on is that of Lafcadio Hearne by his Japanese wife which more impressed her because of its revelation of the writer than for what it tells of the rather selfish object of her devotion.

To John Galsworthy's essays she paid high tribute declaring they surpassed his novels. "In them," she says, "you get a glimpse of the real man not trying to either preach or teach." The essay on "American and Briton," and "Grotesques" were especially mentioned. She spoke of Wells as "the man who has never arrived, who is always going on."

She rejoiced in the popular rendition of the later plays of James Barrie just put out by Scribner's and spoke with enthusiasm of their place in literature and spoke also of Maeterlinck's new plays, particularly "The Betrothal," which has been pronounced not equal to "The Blue Bird."

The great volume of war poetry and the probability that but a small part would survive after-war criticism was dwelt upon.

Among novels she particularly mentioned "The Roll Call," by Arnold Bennett as a wonderful revelation of the mind of a young man.

"The Secret City," by Hugh Walpole, author of "The Dark Forest" and its sequel, was warmly praised.

"The Promise of Air" was another pronounced "charming and like some trip into the regions of the unknown. No one except Conrad writes better."

As stated, round-tables followed the book review, Mrs. E. H. Willisford conducting one on "recreation," Mrs. Tower another on "a city park and memorial," others being "The School Election" by Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, "Our Club Betterment" by Mrs. J. R. White, and "The League of Nations Pacific Coast Congress" by Mrs. Charles Toll.

Fifteen minutes was allotted to the round tables and then the conductor of each made a three-minute report or summary except that Mrs. Toll was given fifteen minutes on account of the general interest in her topic and its bigness. Members were so eager to hear any message she had to give them concerning the league that her table was the largest of the five. The objection to the round table is the same as the objection to the three-ring circus, one is so sure of missing something.

Reporting for the recreation table Mrs. Willisford stated the practical agreement that Glendale needs a recreation center and large public auditorium, the center to be open Sunday as well as week days and to provide amusement of all kinds except pool.

Mrs. Tower made a fine report of the park and civic center meeting and an eloquent plea for the support of the project.

Mrs. Hutchinson voiced the satisfaction of mothers in the work of Mrs. Charles Toll on the Grammar School Board, the universal regret over her refusal to be a candidate for re-election and the choice of Mrs. Arthur Brown to succeed her, also the nomination of Mrs. Gardener of Eagle Rock for a place on the High School Board to succeed Dr. Young, and for both ladies she urged full support at the election March 28th to be held at the High School from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Mrs. John Robt. White suggested by way of club betterment increasing dues to $5.00 and more paid talent for programs, fewer guest cards, more prompt payment of dues, and several other things.

Mrs. Toll made a brief resume of the points made by the leading speakers at the Congress to consider the league of nations in San Francisco in which she quoted from Prof. Lowell, of Harvard University, Henry Van Dyke, Mr. Morganthau, Prof. Geo. Wilson of Harvard, Mrs. Moore, ex-president of the Federation of Women's Clubs and ex-President Taft, all indorsing the league as a means of reducing the possibilities of war and making the world a more safe place in which to live.

One of the chief items of business at the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was the reading of proposed amendments to the club constitution by Mrs. Helen Campbell. They will be presented at the next meeting for discussion and adoption or rejection.

SEEING FRANCE

sor in the Sorbonne, in Paris. She insists that I come to Paris and learn correct French, with her as my teacher and I surely am going to see if it is possible to do so. There is French and French, each district of France talks a different lingo—so I want to learn the exact and true phonetic pronunciation.

After a visit with my "family" I toured Paris with the rubberneck wagons and once with a pretty dressmaker, a real Parisian, Ha! Ha! Gee, but you never saw so many poor people dress so exquisitely. They surely know how to apply the polish of a true Frenchman.

That is one very noticeable feature in France, everybody (no matter how poor), has his or her Sunday best clothes. The suit may be all black and very simple, but the taste, the good taste is very evident.

After Paris, I chased over to Romarantin, where Walter was stationed, but two weeks before, only to find that he had been separated from his company and shipped somewhere, no one knew where.

So I chased down to the Pyrenees mountains, to Toulouse, Pau, Lourdes Biarritz and then up through Bordeaux back to Paris again. The trip was wonderfully interesting in people, and towns. I ran across Walter's trail down there at Pau, he had been to the same hotel that I stopped at. I am very sure it was Walter for the hotel keeper gave a very clear description of him and said he was from San Francisco.

I visited all the old places and borrowed a few souvenirs in one of them. I think it was in Henry the IV castle or bed-room that I found a beaten brass plate that makes a dandy cigarette tray. Speaking of cigarettes why under the sun does Uncle Sam, the "Y" and all the others, feed us so many bloomin' coffin nails? If they do not quit it soon, we will all be dead from smoking (more or less). Personally, I have reverted to the good old jimmy pipe. Camel cigarettes have such a heavy paper that the ash in it makes your windpipe full of soot so that we cough most of the time.

I visited Toul, Nancy and took a birds-eye view of Metz as we hung around the station. By the way, the Metz station is a complete city in itself. While you wait, you can get a bath, shave, meal, most any old thing you want. A few thousand soldiers were spread out all over the place when I came through. They did not seem to mind the cement floor for a bed.

Thousands of the French and Yank soldiers are taking leaves so that the trains are jammed to the roof. I stood up and slept most of one night on my way towards Nice. We can go most anywhere we want to so many of the fellows go to England or Italy, but I want to see France first, it seems closer to my heart than those other places.

I had a long talk with the depot quartermaster in Paris, while there, Col. Scott, a California man, do you know him? He wants me to come to Paris and handle his transportation department. I gave him my Army history and it seems that I have just the experiences that he requires. Most of my officers were friends or schoolmates of his and he seems to know a lot of people that I know. Major General Sample of Frisco is a very good friend of mine and also of his. So I think if my application goes through, I will not only have very congenial officers but will have the long hoped for opportunity to study French with a real master of the language.

There is nothing new about these square heads in the Rhineland. We don't like them, for the more you see of them the more one is reminded of "dumb driven cattle" as Longfellow put it.

They have no political leaders, except religious partisans, and Europe has seen enough of them in politics. Hence, they are like sheep and know not which way to turn. I think we will be here for many weeks, possibly months, for they are beginning to sit down and whine about the terms of peace, when, as a matter of fact, it would be better for all concerned if we had an excuse to exterminate the whole breed.

Before the war I was opposed to any kind of an army, but today, after all the lies, deceit and bestial actions of their army, I have lost all sense of respect or feeling for them in every way.

This is not a very lovable thought to carry around with one all day long, but I think it is the prevailing thought of most of the men. There are a lot of fellows that holler about when are we going home but most of us would rather stay on the job and finish it now even if we never get back to the home fires.

I receive your papers most of the time, in fact, we have a surplus of reading matter nowadays. We cannot begin to read it. There are lots of shows put on for the men and they are well taken care of. In fact, I think the American Army is getting pampered to death. Chocolate, smokes, newspapers and much other stuff is yours for the asking or the taking.

We all would like to be home again among our friends, but don't let any political agitation bring the boys home prematurely. Sustain our President even if you do not agree with him politically, for there are many hidden forces at work trying to undo the good work that he is the natural and gifted leader of. He is well beloved by all of Europe and from the paper reports gets more knives thrust in his back at home than from all the world combined.

The problems of reconstruction all over the world will need the best thought and effort of the very best men we have. There will be the economical fight, more bitter than heretofore, and a steady hand will be needed at many a helm. This is part of the action that we will not be permitted to engage in, but then a soldier has done his duty and can take all the action even if he does get all the glory. Ha! Ha!

I hope to tell you in the next letter that I am settled in Paris and going to night school. It is a wonderful opportunity and I hope that I will be permitted to go.

There is news in the wind today that we might go farther into Germany. I hope it is not true for we don't want to see any more of the Boche than we must, but we are here to finish if need be.

Until then, folks of mine, your son Peter is well and happy as possible after a fine vacation. Write often. Bonne chance. HOWARD.
